

\ The program might be subject to change. We hope to meet at Campus VID Diakonhjemmet, but taking heed of the corona-situation and the total number of participants eventually registered, we might have to transform the program into an online course. Information will be given consecutively*

PhD-DVP 902 Philosophy of Science and Research Ethics, 30. Nov - 4. Dec. 2020

PROGRAM:

Monday 30. November: CLASSICAL SCIENCE: EXPLANATION AND TESTABILITY.

- 09.30-10.00: Welcome and information. Outline: The basic questions.
10.00-11.45: The Classic Paradigm of Science by professor Magdalene Thomassen
11.45 LUNCH
12.45-14.00: Presentation of projects by 6 PhD candidates
– 3 groups with 6-7 candidates, 2 presentations in each group, 30 min. pr. project:
12.45-13.15: First presentation with response and debate.
13.25-13.55: Second presentation with response and debate.
14.15-16.00: Production of knowledge by quantitative research methods by ass. professor Beate Jelstad Løvaas

Tuesday 1. December: INTERPRETATIVE SCIENCE. RELATIVISM AND BEYOND.

- 09.00-10.45: Modern Hermeneutics by professor Magdalene Thomassen
11.00-11.45: Debating relativism: Kuhn by professor Magdalene Thomassen
11.45 LUNCH
12.45-14.00: Presentation of projects by 6 PhD candidates
*3 groups with 6-7 candidates, 2 presentations in each group, 30 min. pr. project:
12.45-13.15: First presentation with response and debate.
13.25-13.55: Second presentation with response and debate.
14.15-16.00: Production of knowledge by qualitative research methods by associate professor Oddgeir Synnes

Wednesday 2. December: EXPERIENCING PHENOMENA. LANGUAGE AND CONTEXT.

- 09.00-10.45: Phenomenology by professor Magdalene Thomassen
11.00-11.45: Post-kuhnian developments by professor Magdalene Thomassen
11.45 LUNCH
12.45-14.00: Presentation of projects by 6 PhD candidates
*3 groups with 6-7 candidates, 2 presentations in each group, 30 min. pr. project:
12.45-13.15: First presentation with response and debate.
13.25-13.55: Second presentation with response and debate.
14.15-16.00: Co-production of knowledge by professor Tor Slettebø

Thursday 3. December: KNOWLEDGE AND POWER.

- 09.00-09.45: Social constructivism by professor Ulf Axberg
10.00-10.45: Postcolonial theory by associate professor Maria Guzman Gallegos
11.00-11.45: Feminist epistemology by professor Inger Marie Lid
11.45 LUNCH
12.45-13.15: Presentation of projects by 3 PhD candidates
*3 groups with 6-7 candidates, 1 presentations in each group, 30 min. pr. project:
12.45-13.15: Presentation with response and debate.
13.30-15.15: The grand debate – different schools in Philosophy of Science: Exchange and dialogue

Friday 4. December: ETHICS IN RESEARCH.

- 09.00-11.45: Ethical and legal frameworks for research, by professor Hans Morten Haugen
11.45 LUNCH
12.45-14.00: Ethical challenges in the research process, by associate professor Anne Raustøl
14.15-15.00: Summing up and evaluation

* * *